

Palmes d'Or

Rosé Vintage 2005 is... divine

PALMES D'OR ROSÉ VINTAGE 2005

Subtle and Sensual

Blend

A powerful and sensual cuvée revealing the excellence of the Champagne terroirs and pinot noir. An exceptional rosé.

Region

The ideal balance between Bouzy's powerful pinot noirs and the subtly scented of Riceys'.

Ageing and Vinification

An aging of 5 years minimum. Rosé of bleeding.

Appearance

Clear coral-red, almost Indian summer-like in appearance. Abundant, extremely delicate mousse with tiny, radiant bubbles.

Nose

Stunning freshness and great elegance and purity define the Palmes d'Or Rosé Vintage 2005 on the bouquet. Primary aromas of newly-picked red berry fruits still soaked in the morning dew — including Morelo cherries, raspberries and red currant, gradually give way to stunning floral fragrances of mimosa, violets and lilac. The Palmes d'Or gradually opens up to reveal its spicy character, with unusual notes of vanilla, Espelette chilis and a hint of pepper.

Palate

Wonderfully fresh, Palmes d'Or Rosé Vintage is dry, refined and delicate. The soft, integrated tannins create velvety Champagne with remarkable balance. This journey of the senses continues on the palate with notes of red berry fruits and undergrowth. The aromatic plants are also echoed with flavors of fresh coriander.
